

Dear Valued Customer:

We have some exciting news for you just in time for the holiday season. Effective October 1, 2012, we are stepping out of the retail market to focus on developing the best products possible for you. Our priority has, and always will be, to provide you with the best customer service and a product that lasts forever.

What does this mean for you? More choices! You'll be able to purchase our products through retailers you already know and love. Go to <http://kennesawcannon.com/dealers.php> to start shopping.

What is the future of Kennesaw Cannon Company? In an effort to better serve you, we are moving to a new facility. The increased space and capabilities will ensure that we can offer even greater customer service product selection as we move forward.

Please accept our thanks for your support. We appreciate your patience during this transitional time, and we hope you continue to enjoy our Kennesaw Cannon Products for years to come.

Respectfully,

Sales Team
